Party tenets

Environmental

"Any dictatorship would be better than modern democracy. There cannot be so incompetent dictator, that he would show more stupidity than a majority of the people. Best dictatorship would be one where lots of heads would roll and government would prevent any economical growth."
- Pentti Linkola

- Practicing a eugenics program to downsize the population and ensure "only healthy seeds are planted".
- Sterilizing defectives
- An end to rampant modern technology that is destroying the planet overall and causing the population of humanity to explode into unmanageable growth of mostly individuals who do nothing but consume resources

Economical

"So the, in the present age of Kali, the government men will be dasyu (thieves). This is stated in the Srimad-Bhagavatam. Dasyu-dharmabhih. You can, we can see practically. You cannot keep your money. You earn with hard labor, but you cannot keep gold, you cannot keep jewelry, you cannot keep money. And... They will take it away by laws. So they make law that... Yudhishthira Maharaja was just quite opposite. He wanted to see that every citizen is so happy that they are not troubled even by excessive heat and excessive cold. Ati-vyadhi. They are not suffering from any disease, they are not suffering from excessive climatic influence, eating very nicely, and feeling security of person and property. That was Yudhishthira Maharaja. Not only Yudhishthira Maharaja. Almost all the kings, they were like that." (Lecture on Srimad-Bhagavatam 1.8.18 - Mayapura, September 28, 1974)

- An end to usury such as income tax.
- An end to “tax and spend” economical practices.
- Creation of more jobs.
- A mandate to employ more white Canadians in jobs than immigrants.
- An end to affirmative action.
- End all forms of immigration and “open borders” policy.
- National self-sufficiency above all else.
- Abolishing the “welfare state”. An end or increased restriction on social assistance. Those who do not work do not deserve the fruits of others labor.
- Increased privatization of charities, humanitarian groups, etc.
- Raising the national minimum wage.

Education

- An end to programs such as anti-racist mathematics, and any educational lessons deemed to be socially Marxist. No more teaching children to accept homosexuality, transsexualism, etc.
- The main goal of education should be to teach a child how to be employable as an adult.

Military

- An increase budget of military spending for national defense.
- Increased social programs for military veterans and active duty personnel.
- Conscription at the age of 16 for a mandatory period of 3 years. The military aids in teaching national identity, duty towards the self and others, discipline and other higher noble principles.

Social

- An one party system in lieu of the two or three parties who share the same ideology and do nothing to fix society.
- An end to same-sex marriage.
- The criminalization of transsexualism; individuals who wish to change their biological sex should receive therapy and hormonal treatments.
- An end to “safe spaces” and “gender neutral washrooms”.
- Government should be lead by (1) benevolent leader who is advised by a council of intelligent individuals. This leader should be elected by the party on the basis/merits of:
 - past military experience
 - intelligence

- moral character
- knowledge
- experience
- An end to changing national laws to benefit immigrants and to reflect Islamic sharia law.
- Canada for Canadians, not immigrants or those of a different cultural identity.
- The abolishment of hate speech laws.
- Government monitoring of all academic institutions and individuals who are educating our youth.
